Management of Personal Information at Keio University

Keio University handles personal information in a secure and appropriate manner and in compliance with the “Keio University Basic Policy Concerning Protection of Personal Information” and the “Keio University Rules to Protect Personal Information.”

The names of individuals, their addresses, and other personal information provided for the application and admissions procedures will be used by the various departments of Keio University to ① carry out admissions procedures, ② carry out administration, communication, and procedures for matters concerning academic affairs, ③ carry out administration, communication, and procedures for matters concerning general student life, ④ carry out administration, communication, and procedures for matters concerning the use of university facilities and equipment, ⑤ send out communications for soliciting donations, school bonds and recruiting members for the Keio Iji-kai (Support Group) and the Keio Card, ⑥ send out various documents to students and guarantors and carry out other communications with them, ⑦ send out various information from Keio University to Keio alumni after graduation, etc. Furthermore, Keio University provides support to promote the activities of the various Mita-kai (alumni association) run by Keio alumni. To disseminate information on these activities or when we are approached by those in charge of establishing new Mita-kais for information on alumni, personal information may be provided after the prescribed procedures have been completed and a review has been conducted. (Unless a special notification has been submitted, information shared with the Mita-kai will be your name, home address, place of employment, and e-mail address in print form.)

For the above functions, part of the work is outsourced to contractors entrusted by Keio University (hereinafter "entrusted contractors"). When outsourcing, part or all of the personal information individuals have provided to Keio University may be shared with the entrusted contractors to the extent necessary to carry out the work.

In principle, Keio University will not disclose personal information of individuals to third parties.

In exceptional circumstances, such as when there is a legal obligation to do so, when determined to be necessary to protect the life, health, property, or other rights and interests of a student or a third party, or in other cases where there is an urgent need but consent from the individuals concerned cannot be obtained, personal information may be disclosed to third parties. In addition, data on personal information that has been statistically processed in a way that does not identify any individuals will be used as survey and research material for the selection of new students to the university. Thank you for your understanding.

Special Measures for Applicants in Areas Hit by Large-scale Natural Disasters

For the purpose of reducing the financial burden on applicants who live in areas effected by large-scale natural disasters (areas designated by the Japanese government as having experienced a “Disaster of Extreme Severity”), Keio may take special measures based on the situation in the affected areas. For details and application materials, refer to the following URL: <http://www.admissions.keio.ac.jp/en/>.

*Special measures for victims of large-scale natural disasters will be listed at the URL above.

Applicants who need special consideration due to disabilities must contact the Office of Student Services Academic Affairs Group (Law School) by the deadline listed below:

For April matriculation: November 30 of the previous year
For September matriculation: June 30 of the same year

1. Admissions Application Guide for Prospective Applicants

1-1. Admissions Policy

The aim of the master's degree program (LL.M.) in Global Legal Practice is to cultivate legal professionals who will play active roles on the world stage, as well as legal staff for multinational corporations and international organizations. The program welcomes applicants with the resolve and ability to tackle the challenging task of acquiring an understanding of legal systems not only in Japan but across the world and communicating this understanding in English.

The selection process requires applicants to submit a statement of their purpose in applying for the program and career plans, together with documentation concerning their English language proficiency, character evaluation, academic performance in law and related disciplines, prior acquisition of legal professional qualifications, experience in legal practice, and other matters. Each applicant is subjected to a comprehensive evaluation based on standardized quantitative and qualitative criteria. In order to enable the acceptance of a wide variety of students, the program has matriculation periods in both spring (April) and fall (September), catering to the needs of applicants residing in Japan and those from outside Japan (international students). Two application periods are held each year in accordance with these two matriculation periods, with results announced separately for each period. Application Period I is usually held in May for entrance in September of the current year and April of the following year, and Application Period II is usually held in December for entrance in both April and September of the following year.

To date, the master's degree program in Global Legal Practice has accepted international students under the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology's Inter-University Exchange Project (Re-Inventing Japan Project): Support for the Formation of Collaborative Programs with Universities in Asia and the Japan International Cooperation Center's Project for Human Resource Development Scholarship. However, the selection schedule described above poses procedural barriers for prospective applicants under these projects, and such applicants are therefore offered a dedicated "Admissions Office"-style screening (based upon special recommendation) held from March to April each year.

1-2. Major Discipline and Admission Quota

Graduate School	Program Type	Major Discipline	Admission Quota*
Law School	Professional Degree Program	Master of Laws (LL.M.) in Global Legal Practice	30

*The admission quota refers to the total number of students admitted in April and September each academic year.

1-3. Eligibility Requirements

Applicants who meet all of the following requirements (1 and 2) are qualified to apply for admission. However, those who do not have a university degree but possess a certification as an officer of the court might nonetheless fulfill the eligibility requirements of items 1.(8) and 2.(2). In such cases, the applicant must undergo an application eligibility screening prior to submitting an application.

1. An applicant must satisfy at least one of the following requirements:

- (1) The applicant has graduated or is expected (*1) to graduate from an undergraduate university program.
- (2) The applicant has received or is expected (*1) to receive a Bachelor's degree from the National Institution for Academic Degrees and Quality Enhancement of Higher Education.
- (3) The applicant has completed or is expected (*1) to complete 16 years of academic education overseas.
- (4) The applicant has completed a professional course, which is specified by the Minister of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology, as a special training school (and at which the minimum term of study is four years and which meets all criteria set by the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology of Japan) on or after the specified date, or the applicant will complete such a course (*1).
- (5) The applicant is designated by the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology.
- (6) Enrolled in the third year or higher at a university or with equivalent qualifications at the time of application and must be assessed as having outstanding academic results exceeding the requirements set by Keio University Law School.
- (7) Awarded or expect to be awarded a degree equivalent to a bachelor's degree for the completion of a course requiring three years or more at a university outside Japan, etc by the time of admission
- (8) The applicant is recognized by Keio University as having an equivalent qualification to one of the qualifications listed in (1) through (7) above and will be 22 years of age by the date of his or her matriculation (*2).

2. An applicant must satisfy at least one of the following requirements:
- (1) The applicant has received a Bachelor's degree in law or jurisprudence or a Juris Doctor degree.
 - (2) The applicant has a basic knowledge of jurisprudence (equivalent to graduation from an undergraduate law faculty) other than item 2.(1) (*2).

*1: "Expected" graduation means the following:

For the April 2020 matriculation, the applicant is expected to graduate by Mar. 31, 2020

For the September 2020 matriculation, the applicant is expected to graduate by Sept. 21, 2020

*2: Those seeking admission on the basis of eligibility requirement item 1.(8) or 2.(2) must undergo an "Applicant Eligibility Certification" screening beforehand. Please submit the following application documents within the time period specified in "1-4. Application Schedule" below.

● Document Submission Required for "Applicant Eligibility Certification" (Keio University does not return these documents after submission)

1. Application Form for Applicant Eligibility Certification (prescribed form)
2. Resume Form for Applicant Eligibility Certification (prescribed form) (Fill in your entire educational background from elementary school.)
3. Proof of latest academic record (i.e. Certificate of (Expected) Graduation or Completion)
(If Keio University determines that you fulfill the eligibility requirements to apply, you will not be required to submit an additional proof of your latest academic record when you submit your application documents.)
4. Statement of Reasons for Requesting "Applicant Eligibility Certification"
>> Open-ended format. Explain the reasons why you consider yourself to have academic ability (equivalent to or exceeding that of a university graduate) sufficient to apply for this Law School, LL.M. in Global Legal Practice, including any research experience or achievements. Please attach reference materials concerning your research if available.

Please note the following:

- All documents should be original documents (not copies).
- If the original document is not in Japanese or English, a Japanese or English translation verified by an official organization such as an embassy or a notary office must also be submitted along with the original document.
- Download the prescribed forms from: http://grad.admissions.keio.ac.jp/shikaku_en.html
- There is no application fee for this screening.
- Results will be sent to each applicant directly.

Every applicant must enclose all required application documents in a self-prepared envelope and send it to the address shown on page 11. Send the documents by Japan Post’s recorded delivery service, kani kakitome (簡易書留) from Japan, or by traceable express mail service (e.g., “EMS”) from abroad. Applicants within Japan: Submitted documents must be postmarked during the application period indicated above. Overseas applicants: Submitted documents must arrive at Keio University during the application period indicated above.

3. Notice of Acceptance of Application

After the application documents are received and checked by Keio University, a “Notice of acceptance email” will be sent to the applicant after several weeks. This email includes an Examination Admission Number and the URL to view the announcement of admissions results. Applicants should be sure to keep the URL until the announcement of screening results.

Please note that the Notice of Acceptance of Application is NOT a notice to let you know whether the application documents have arrived at Keio or not. It is a notice to let you know that we have checked the documents and accepted it as your application. We will not answer to any questions regarding document’s arrival.

Also, if there are lack of necessary documents or mistakes, we may not accept the application.

4. Application Review Process

Assessment of each applicant is based on an evaluation of the applicant’s submitted documents. Some applicants may be required to submit additional documents or participate in an interview by telephone or by video conference during the screening process.

5. Announcement of Admissions Results

The announcement of admissions results will be posted on our website. The URL will be sent to each applicant by email.

6. Notes on Admission

- (1) Keio University cannot answer any questions regarding the review of applications, announcement of admissions results, or arrival of submitted documents.
- (2) Keio University is not able to return application documents after submission nor is it able to refund application fees. Also, you may not revise any documents once submitted.
- (3) Notes for applicants submitting a Certificate of Expected Graduation:
Applicants seeking to matriculate in September must submit proof of graduation acceptable to Keio University by September 21.
Applicants seeking to matriculate in April must submit proof of graduation acceptable to Keio University by March 31. Keio University will not allow such applicants to matriculate unless proof of graduation is provided by the deadline, even if they otherwise successfully completed the admissions process.
- (4) If you provide false information in your application documents, your qualification to enroll in Keio University will be canceled or rescinded. (The Academic Affairs Group for Graduate Admissions may contact the institution that issued any certificates or other documents included in your application to confirm that such documents are valid.) Any cheating or forgery will be treated in the same way. In such cases, Keio University will not refund any application fees or tuition fees.

7. Provision of Documents Regarding Admission Procedures

Keio University will send an Admission Procedure Handbook and admission registration forms to all admitted applicants after the day of the announcement of admissions results. (Documents will be sent by registered mail (e.g., “EMS”) when the recipient is overseas.)

Be sure to notify the Academic Affairs Group for Graduate Admissions by email or post if there is any change to your mailing address.

Instructions for registration for admitted students will be provided in the Admissions Procedures Handbook.

The Admission Procedures Handbook will be sent to successful applicants approximately one or two months before entrance date.
